Best Choices: The Ethical Journey Workshop, Part Two

Early childhood education and care practitioners work with one of the most vulnerable groups in society - young children. The quality of the interactions between young children and the adults who care for them has a significant, enduring impact on children's lives. The intimacy of the relationship and the potential to do harm calls for a commitment on our part to the highest standards of ethical practice.

This four-part series guides participants on a journey of ethical discovery and awareness. Participants will have the opportunity to explore personal values, beliefs and assumptions, and examine the complexities in ethical decision-making. Each module consists of approximately a three hour presentation. The program recommends a minimum of one month between sessions in order to allow participants to internalize concepts and reflect how principles guide practice once introduced. Module Two guides participants on the purpose, structure and benefits of a professional code of ethics. Following the eight principles identified in the CCCF Code of Ethics, participants will experience and understand how a code of ethics can guide practice. In order to attend this session, all participants must have attended and successfully completed Module One of the Ethics- Best Choices sessions as a prerequisite.

This workshop is designed to:

- Understand the relationship between beliefs, values and ethics
- Learn how to identify personal beliefs, values and ethics
- Understand how beliefs, values and ethics are reflected in your actions
- Understand and respect the beliefs, values and ethics of others
