Promoting Sensitive Interactions with Children

This interactive workshop focuses on a critical component of quality child care - Adult/Child Interactions:

“Responsive stable caregiver - child interactions are the SINGLE MOST IMPORTANT element in quality child care.” Our Child Care Workforce: From Recognition to Remuneration, 1998.

60% of the total Accreditation rating that a Child Care Centre or Family Child Care Agency receives is assigned to ADULT/CHILD INTERACTIONS. Alberta Association for the Accreditation of Early Learning and Care Services, 2004

During this 3 hour workshop, participants will explore how sensitive interactions enhance children’s development as well as reflect on their interactions with children. Adults working with children in Centres/Agencies that are involved in the Accreditation process as well as those who have completed it will find this session beneficial.

Participants in this workshop will explore:

Why interactions between adults and children are so important?

What behaviours indicate that adults are interacting sensitivity?

How adults ensure they are acting in sensitive ways that promote children’s optimum development?

Fee: $40.00 PTL Program Member $60.00 Non-Member • Handouts relating to the workshop. • Course certificate for successful completion of the workshop.
